Strategic Improvement Plan • 2018–2020

Inspiring Spirits and Minds

NEW HORIZONS

Sydney Catholic Schools

Strategic Improvement Plan • 2018–2020
Catholic schools in the Archdiocese of Sydney have a strong reputation in the general community, with record enrolments and significant academic achievements.

One of the hallmarks of our Catholic education system is the determination to improve continually at all levels. The 2014 external review is one example of this. It was heartening to read in the panel report that one of the many strengths identified is the ‘unambiguous clarity of Vision and Mission’. The Vision and Mission statement contains bold statements which articulate the core beliefs and foundations, and underpin everything that Catholic schools do. Catholic education is grounded in the Church’s mission to proclaim Christ crucified (1 Cor 1:23) and to teach our children the Catholic faith and Catholic values.

Another important document is the The Archbishop’s Charter for Catholic Schools which lists the aspirations and expectations for our schools. It recognises the complex goal of educating children in the scriptures and tradition, and forming them intellectually, morally, imaginatively, liturgically and socially.

NEW HORIZONS is embedded in the Vision and Mission of Catholic schools and the Archbishop’s Charter. It clarifies the strategic directions for schools and also acknowledges that the future is not always clear. In our rapidly changing world, we must always be ready to embrace the challenges with which we are confronted and to equip our students with the will and skills to help make God’s Kingdom come in 21st century Sydney.

My vision for Catholic schools is that they are centres of the new evangelisation, led and staffed by ‘missionary disciples’, to use Pope Francis’ phrase. Our schools need to be places where our young people experience God. People are brought to a strong and living faith by personal encounters with Christ, and Catholic schools are the ideal places for such encounters to happen. This is why every staff member of Sydney Catholic Schools is called to play a role in the Church’s mission to evangelise. It is through our example, our interactions with others, our actions towards the marginalised, our articulation of the Faith and our active participation in the life of the Church, that we are the most powerful and effective forms of evangelisation for those entrusted to our care.

In these oases of Catholic prayer and life that are Catholic schools, it is my dream that each person is welcomed, formed and sent; that these well-educated, well-formed young people will emerge from our schools ready to be ‘missionary disciples’ in their lives.

God bless our Catholic schools!

Archbishop Anthony Fisher OP
Archbishop of Sydney

Dedication

This plan is dedicated to the current 70,000 students in the 152 systemic schools in the Archdiocese of Sydney and to those thousands who will follow them.

I have come that they may have life and have it to the full

JOHN 10:10
NEW HORIZONS is a strategic plan full of promise and optimism to guide the young people in our schools over the next three years. It signals a clear determination to inspire the spirits and minds of all in our community to look to the future with hope.

Being student-centred, the plan will set the direction for our 152 systemic schools and administration offices in the Archdiocese of Sydney for the next three years.

Strategic planning and a culture of improvement have been a focus of Catholic education in Sydney for many years. They have been characterised by consultation, collaboration, and building on the strength of the Catholic educators who preceded us. In 2014, the Catholic Education Office Sydney commissioned an external review of the previous Strategic Plan ‘Building On Strength’. This review was conducted by an expert panel.

The terms of reference for the review were broad and provided an opportunity to ensure that authentic and honest feedback would inform future directions. Extensive consultation was undertaken with over 7000 members of the Catholic schools community including pastors, leaders of Catholic religious institutions, students, parents, principals, assistant principals and SCS staff. The data collected was used to formulate a comprehensive report which identified areas of strength and helped shape this new strategic plan. The new plan is also faithful to the 11 elements of The Archbishop’s Charter for Catholic Schools.

A number of principles were collaboratively designed to guide the development of the plan. First and foremost, the plan needed to be underpinned by the dual moral purposes (Catholic Identity/Mission and Student Learning) of Catholic education in the context of our Vision and Mission. It needed to be student-centred and focused on the formation of the whole child. It needed to be inclusive and characterised by high expectations so that all students would achieve their full potential. In essence, New Horizons is a plan for all schools and directorate teams working in harmony across the system to support the educational growth and spiritual development of our most important stakeholders: our children.

To position Sydney Catholic Schools for long-term success, the plan needed to be highly strategic and focus on a limited number of challenging, achievable and sustainable priorities. Subsequent annual implementation plans will have to align easily with this plan and be well designed and clearly communicated using accessible and non-technical language.

In addition to this, the priorities of the local context, the Archdiocese of Sydney and state and national governments’ educational agendas will need to be addressed with precise accountability processes for reporting the progress of the plan.

Consequently, NEW HORIZONS will inform all future directorate and school strategic and annual improvement plans.

An innovative feature of this plan is the section entitled ‘Looking Forward’. The statements here form the foundations for significant cultural change within the organisation. They demonstrate a deep commitment to positive life-giving relationships at all levels.

The five Strategic Priorities – Catholic Identity and Mission, Learning and Teaching, Student and Staff Wellbeing, Capacity Building and Stewardship of Resources – have been identified as the essential elements of our strategic growth and continued success as a system of schools. They are recognised as our ‘core business’ and are the key responsibilities of all.

It is my fervent hope that every person – student, parent, pastor and staff member – can clearly see his or her place within this plan. I look forward to working in partnership with you all to bring this plan to fruition and to continue to further the mission of the Church in Catholic schools in the Archdiocese of Sydney.

Principles for Strategic Planning

The following principles were formulated to guide the development of NEW HORIZONS. They can also assist leadership teams within the Sydney Catholic Schools community as they develop Strategic Improvement Plans.

STRATEGIC PLANS WILL:

1. Prioritise the dual moral purposes (Catholic Identity/Mission and Student Learning) of Catholic education in the context of the Vision and Mission
2. Be student-centred and focused on the formation of the whole child
3. Be inclusive and characterised by high expectations so that students will achieve their potential
4. Focus on the strategic (and not operational) priorities that position Sydney Catholic Schools for long-term success
5. Identify a limited number of challenging, achievable and sustainable priorities
6. Ensure that there are well-designed, clearly communicated, aligned annual implementation plans
7. Use language that is clear, non-technical and accessible
8. Address the priorities of the local context, the Archdiocese of Sydney and state and national governments’ educational agendas
9. Specify precise accountability processes for reporting the progress of the plan.
Looking forward Sydney Catholic Schools

This section of the Strategic Plan outlines the cultural shifts that will increasingly see students and schools as the centre of the system of Sydney Catholic Schools. These shifts are embedded in the Vision and Mission of Catholic education and the Archbishop’s Charter for Catholic Schools. They are centred on the preparation of students as creative learners with Catholic values in a future Australian society. These shifts will be monitored through the system’s cultural surveys and through evaluations of Key Improvements throughout the plan.

As a Catholic school system, we are committed to the dual moral purpose of evangelisation and providing authentic learning experiences for our students. Over the next three years, Sydney Catholic Schools will focus on five Strategic Priorities in achieving this dual moral purpose.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

1. Catholic Identity and Mission
2. Learning and Teaching
3. Student and Staff Wellbeing
4. Capacity Building
5. Stewardship of Resources

The Strategic Priorities have been developed to take forward the Vision and Mission for Sydney Catholic Schools and are aligned with the Archbishop’s Charter for Catholic Schools. Each Strategic Priority has its own vision and includes areas of Key Improvement, which will guide the direction and focus of Sydney Catholic Schools over the next three years. We will measure the extent to which each of the Key Improvements is delivered by the Indicators of Progress linked to each Key Improvement.
STRATEGIC PRIORITY 1 Catholic Identity and Mission

VISION

Jesus is at the heart of our Catholic identity, and the ongoing proclamation of the Kingdom of God in word and action is the mission of Sydney Catholic Schools. Our Catholic schools derive their identity from the person of Jesus Christ. As faith communities, they exist in the hope that all members will have a personal encounter with Jesus, 'the way, the truth and the life', and be empowered in their Christian witness and discipleship.

Our Catholic schools actively contribute to the evangelising and catechising mission of the Church and seek to draw people into active participation in the life, mission and work of the Catholic faith community. Our challenging cultural context calls us to a missioning discipleship characterised by new approaches, vitality and enthusiasm - a 'new evangelisation'.

Animated by the spirit of the Gospel, our Catholic schools are places of welcome, hospitality and service, where the seminal truths and values of a Christian worldview are celebrated and shared. Drawing people together from diverse backgrounds and with different sets of beliefs, Catholic schools are commonly regarded as “meeting places for those who wish to express Christian values in education” (The Catholic School, p.53).

Working in partnership with families and local parish communities, Catholic schools seek to foster the personal and spiritual growth of each member so that he or she may have and experience ‘fullness of life’.

OUR KEY IMPROVEMENTS

To achieve this Vision, the Sydney Catholic Schools community will

1.1 Strengthen the understanding of and commitment to the role of the Catholic school within the Church community.

i A range of programs support the effective engagement of teachers, school and system leaders in the life of the Archdiocese.

ii The policies and practices of Sydney Catholic Schools are clearly informed by The Vision and Mission for Catholic Schools and The Archbishop’s Charter for Catholic Schools, which are embedded within School Review and Improvement processes.

iii Guiding principles developed by the Archdiocese of Sydney and Sydney Catholic Schools will enhance relationships between parishes and schools.

iv There are increased enrolments of Indigenous students, students with refugee status and students from low socio-economic backgrounds.

v There are increased student bursaries for Indigenous, refugee and other marginalised students through the Catholic Education Foundation.
